Subject: I've got a [name of the season] gift for you

Hi [Client/Prospect's Name], ssshhhh!!!

Can I tell you something?

Tomorrow, we'll be having an extremely short sale on our [service]—for [your company's name] clients only.

And because you support our business...

Let us say thank you with an exclusive discount offer on one of our most valuable services.

This sale price will not be made available to the public. And we can only afford to lower this price for the next 48 hours.

After that, all discount offers will expire.

So I'm emailing you 1 day early, to make sure you're up and ready for tomorrow's unprecedented discount sale on one of our best-selling services.

We know that giving you [the best result your service provides]...means that we need to go beyond just giving the best [service category] service; we need to give you the best [service category] experience.

So watch out for our special offer... You don't want to miss it!
